

THE WABANAKI CONVERGENCE CEREMONY

Alma Brooks: 472-2384 —

WOLASTOQ (the beautiful river) IS THE LIFE GIVER
For all living things within Wolastoqiyik Territory.
She is the main artery that carries the blood of the Earth in a never ending cycle for moment to moment, day to day, season to season; since time immemorial. "Water"

Every drop of water that touches the land from the headwaters of every tributary, running rapidly
into the Wolastoq, making its way out to sea.
Then it turns and comes back up the Wolastoq,
And converges at EkPahak; 'the end of the tide'.

Please join us for a very important healing
ceremony where the waters converge at Ekpahak.
Our prophecies tell us that it is our responsibility as Wabanaki, the people of the dawn, to initiate the healing of the lands and waters of the Eastern Gate.
The East is the place of first contact and it is the place where the first blood was spilled on this land.
The healing of these lands and waters will be instrumental in cleansing the trauma that is held by the lands of North America. We invite people from all races and all cultures to join us in this sacred ceremony as we come together to bring healing to the land and waters of the Eastern Gate.
